Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernize that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

W. C. PLUCK IS FOREMAN.

The Grand Jury in Session—Court Notes.

The grand jury for the September term of the circuit court was charged this afternoon by Judge Bookwalter, and W. C. Pluck of Decatur was selected as foreman.

The case of Harriet F. Dorr vs. William C. Dorr, action for separate maintenance and injunction, brought here from Platte county, came up for consideration on motion for solicitor's fee and alimony. Mr. Buckingham appeared for the woman and Mr. Johns for the defendant. It was shown in the arguments that Dorr had charged his wife as guilty of adultery with a man named Price and that he had failed to secure a divorce from her at Monticello with Judge Vail on the bench. It was also shown that Dorr has 80 acres of land and had four horses and 1,000 bushels of corn when Mrs. Dorr began her suit. In his affidavit Dorr denied that he had any corn, that one horse is dead, that $875 is in the hands of the Platte Master and that the farm is leasing at about $2.50 per acre. He avers that he has over $1000 debts to pay, contracted since the spring of 1891. It further appeared that tied up in the master's hands is about $1900. The court allowed the complainant $100 for attorney's fees and $50 alimony to be paid by Wednesday. The case will go to trial Thursday. There are three children.

This afternoon the Waggoner cases will come up for trial.

J. S. Hewes, J. Q. A. Odor, Frank Taylor, Joseph Murphy and Samuel Westcott have been selected as court bailiffs.

Prof. Leonard and Gilmore.

En. LEONARD: Allow me through your columns to pay a tribute to a very old acquaintance of mine, P. S. Gilmore. He and I were music clerks in Boston "away back in the 50's," he in Ordway's, and I in O. Dittson's music store. Afterwards we were associates in the old Boston Brigade Band, of which the famed Ned Kendall, the greatest bugle player in the world, was leader. After Kendall died Gilmore became leader. He used to consider Kendall the greatest musician in the world, never admitting for a moment that he himself would surpass him. In youth, as in manhood, friend Gilmore was the same genial, whole-souled, generous-hearted fellow. Convinced with him when he was here last season, he expressed himself that he thought we two were the only ones left of the old Boston crowd. He now has passed away. Peace to his ashes. I shall always consider it an honor to have to say I had the privilege of association with the great and only Gilmore.

Reply Yours, R. E. LEONARD.

Illinois Conference Love-Fest.

A conference love-fest was held Sunday at Shelbyville by the members of the Illinois Conference in Seminary Park. Bishop Foster preached to 3,000 persons.

The following persons were admitted to the discourse: Joseph C. Chapman, Henry Willard, Joseph Waterbury, William G. Hostes, M. F. Kirkpatrick, William W. Herley, Joseph R. Barker, Jasper Miller, John P. Humphrey. These were admitted to elders' orders: Thomas H. Pierce, T. H. Harbick, Theodore Wright, James Canning, F. S. Ariz, Warren S. Reed, W. P. Bowman, C. N. Olin, M. T. Coleman, W. W. McIntosh, M. H. Browning.

Bishop Foster will make the appointments to-night or to-morrow morning. No one can tell yet who will win the First Chair. There is talk of Rev. W. A. Smith, of Bloomington, coming here.

Signs of Fall.

A drive through the country about Decatur will reveal the fact that autumn is close at hand and that the vanguard of the "melancholy days" is already here. The hickories are changing to gold and very soon they will be ablaze with the stored-up sunlight of the summer that is past. The sunsets are rapidly becoming ablaze with the deep red peculiar to them when touched by even the lightest of frosts, while the maples are sending out a few sentinels in red as if to reconnoiter and arrange for the army that is coming. The corn still holds to its coat of dark, shiny green, but they have fallen well that they must soon drop their robes of brown and russet. The stubble fields are looking brown and bare and many of the cornstalks have turned from green to brown.

First Baptist Church.

The large auditorium of the First Baptist church was well filled both morning and evening yesterday. The pastor, Rev. O. E. Torrey, preached two able sermons. In the morning he spoke concerning the denominational work in the state, and the subject for the evening discourse was "Victorious Living." He particularly emphasized the idea of having a high aim in life and then striving to attain it. Good music was furnished at both services.

Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

The return of Rev. James Miller, to Decatur, as presiding elder of the district, of which he has been a member for five years, is hailed with pleasure by all who are friends in this city. It was expected that possibly he might be assigned to the first church at Springfield, but it appears that the bishop thought it best to make him an elder. He will continue to reside in Decatur. It is well.

Rev. Thomas A. Parker comes to the first church as pastor from the Champaign district. He is a good pulpit orator and pastor, and is a worthy successor of Rev. Miller. Rev. Parker is no stranger in Decatur. He has held some of the appointments in the conference, and the first church is to be congratulated upon securing him as the minister in charge.

The return of Dr. O'Neil to Grace church was not expected. This is his second year at that charge. He is deservedly popular with the church and the people.

Rev. M. Auer, in charge of Decatur circuit, successor of Rev. C. G. Wood, comes from the Macon church. He will make his home in Decatur.

Another Effort Made to Locate It on North Main.
